NEWPORT BRASS

PROPORTION, EXTENDED.

The Extended Reach Kitchen Faucet introduces a thoughtfully scaled solution to the evolving modern kitchen. Designed in response to larger spaces and more expansive sink configurations, this new size offering brings balance and intentional proportion to the heart of the home. Executed in solid brass, Extended Reach maintains the integrity of each collection's design language while delivering enhanced functionality shaped by permanence and performance.

Offered across six of Newport Brass's best-selling kitchen collections, Extended Reach allows the faucet's form and reach to align naturally with the scale of today's kitchens, ensuring both visual harmony and everyday ease.

THE DESIGN

A taller, extended profile designed to work proportionally within expansive kitchens and oversized sink configurations.

INSPIRATION

As kitchens grow in size and complexity, fixtures must respond in kind. Our new extended reach configuration was developed to work in proportion with larger countertops and generously sized sinks, ensuring the faucet feels architecturally appropriate rather than underscaled. By extending the spout height and reach while preserving each collection's original silhouette, the design delivers balance, coverage, and composure across a range of traditional and contemporary expressions.

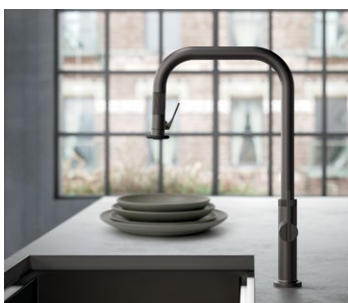

CRAFTSMANSHIP

Crafted from solid brass, Extended Reach delivers both impressive weight and enduring performance. The increased scale requires more brass, more precision, and more discipline in execution, resulting in a faucet that feels purposeful, grounded, and built to last. Each piece reflects Newport Brass's commitment to material honesty and craftsmanship designed to endure daily use over generations.

Extended spout reach provides full sink coverage, enhancing functionality across wider and deeper basins.

DEFINED BY CRAFT, DISTINCT BY DESIGN

SOLID BRASS CONSTRUCTION

Newport Brass's commitment to solid brass is unwavering. Chosen not only for its durability, precision in machining, and ability to receive finish with depth and nuance, but because it lives beautifully in the home — gaining character, reflecting light, and enduring with grace.

IN-HOUSE CRAFTSMANSHIP

In-house craftsmanship keeps design, engineering, machining, hand-finishing, and quality in one place, allowing for unmatched consistency, accountability, and care at every step of the process.

COMPLETE KITCHEN & BATH SUITES

Complete kitchen and bath suites are offered, from lavatory faucets and matching accessories to kitchen pull-downs and air gaps. This isn't about adding more pieces, it's about designing cohesive systems. Every element is considered together, ensuring proportion, finish, and detail remain consistent across the entire space, so a room feels composed, intentional, and truly complete.

FINISH FREEDOM

Finish freedom is born from the commitment to solid brass and in-house craftsmanship. Because every Newport Brass piece is made from solid brass, finishes behave consistently across collections, categories, and the full designed space. It gives designers the confidence to carry a singular vision throughout, knowing that color, character, and quality remain cohesive, intentional, and enduring.

TIMELESS FORMS

Timeless defines both Newport Brass products and the brand. Newport Brass believes that the most enduring design is shaped by restraint, proportion, and material honesty; creating pieces that transcend trend, build legacy, and honor the traditions of craft and making.
